THE ABSOLUTE BEST ARTWORK FOR NEWBORN PHOTOS

When it comes to newborn photography, there are many options for choosing a photographer, and even more for deciding how to best enjoy your images. After over 15 years in business, Jennifer McNeil Photography knows how to help families figure out the absolute best artwork for newborn photos and it's simpler than you may think.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT PHOTOGRAPHER

It starts with choosing the right Orange County Newborn Photographer for you. Does she offer a full-service experience? Does he expect you to DIY? The best artwork will always be created by your photographer as their expertise in the field allows them to prepare the images to the exact specifications that result in high quality prints. For this reason, I always recommend finding a photographer who offers both a session service and custom artwork creation.

PRINTED ARTWORK FOR PHOTOGRAPHY – THE OPTIONS MATTER

If you have your heart set on a beautiful framed print over the fireplace, and the photographer you're considering only offers wood prints, they may not be right for you. It's good to choose someone who offers a variety of products as you may want to decorate multiple spaces in your life, or have future sessions with different needs. Choosing someone who offers archival quality prints and products will also mean the artwork will last through the years and be enjoyed by you and others.

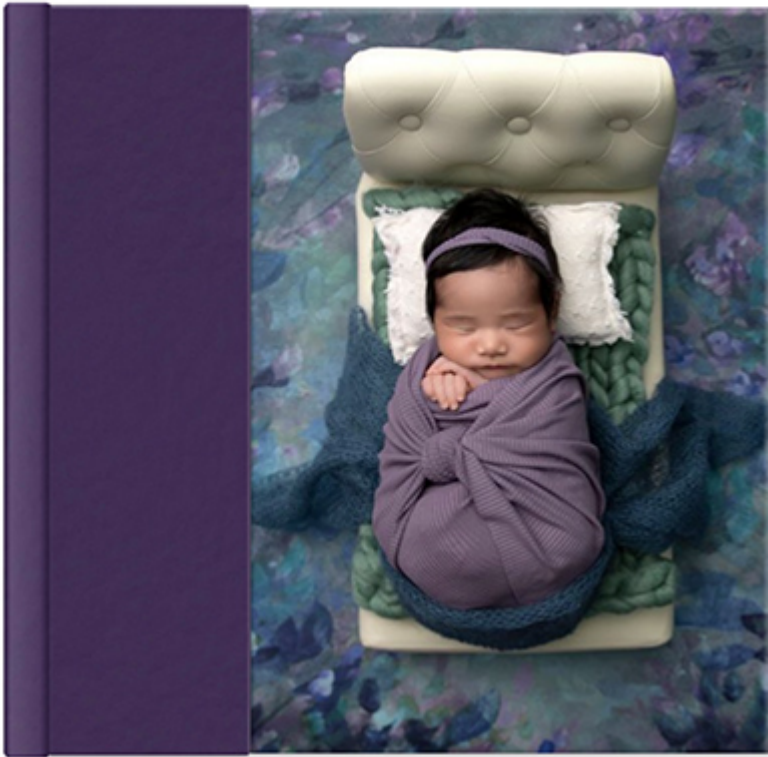

POPULAR NEWBORN ARTWORK

The number one product that clients choose for newborn photos is a Wall Art Collection.

Wall art can be created with one of many mediums including frames, canvas, acrylic, metal and more. A multi-piece display can easily fit over a couch or entryway wall and can include a variety of images including a central family portrait, images of each family member with the baby, and of course beautiful newborn photos with the baby on their own. The variety represented will bring back memories for all who gaze upon the display. Those memories will be relived often as you walk through your home daily and truly enjoy taking in the moment for years to come.

ALBUMS HOLD IT ALL TOGETHER

Often accompanied by wall art, albums are another popular choice for newborn photos. You will absolutely fall in love with all the images in your gallery, but may not have space to display 30 photos on the wall. This makes albums a smart choice as all of your favorite photos can be in one place, in an heirloom piece that holds the same quality as wall art, in a fraction of the space. Many clients proudly display their albums on a coffee table, and share the captured moments with family and friends. One family shared with us that they frequently bring out albums from the years passed, and love remembering as a family, all the happy moments shared from newborn sessions, family portraits, and more. Talk about the warm fuzzies!
